were in circulation, and the bears made a good deal of capital of the story that President Cleveland would surely recom send r further reduction in the suga hedule in his message to Congress One special from Washington said:

The impremion here is that the Fresident's message will advecate the removal of the duties on raw sugar, and also take off the 's-cart differential. It is going to be a ...ugar session, and the craze is already on.

According to Mr. Havemeyer's state , only so much of the force of work as is necessary to complete the rork in hand will be retained after day next, and he declares that it rather than work a reduced amount at an increased cost.

The general belief in financial circles is that the Trust has only made this move in order to influence the action of Senators in the coming seasion of Congress and endeavor to prevent them from putting through the bill for free sugar, which was passed by the House before its adjournment last Summer.

In other words, it is only a "bluff" when President Haveneyer says that the operations of the Company during the last three months under the new tariff have been conducted at a serious loss, and that if any further reduction of duties is made by Congress it will result in killing the sugar refining business completely in this country.

The precent shutting down of the refineries of the Trust means at least the throwing out of employment of 16,000 workmen, even on the basis of a 50 per cent, reduction in the force which Mr. Haveneyer thinks will be necessary.

While Preside 4 Havemeyer is very cautious in his statements in regard to the probable action of the Senate on the Free Sugar bill, it is a well-known fact that the conferences between Senators Brice and Gorman, Jones, of Arkansas, and Smith, of New Jersey, have aroused a great deal of uneasiness among the Sugar magnates, and it is only natural that they should determine upon some vigorous policy to prevent any action which would result in still further lowering of the duties upon raw sugar.

free sugar proposition was extremely bitter.

It was every where declared that this was only another scheme on the part of the sugar magnates to manipulate the market, and put money in their own pockets, at the expense of the public, as well as to influence legislation by Congress The idea that the Trust was becoming impoverished in consequence of the present tariff duties, was secured as adding when the supply of sugar is remarkably low.

It is stated that the stock of raw sugar at the refineries of the Trust in this vicinity is now but little more than $1.000 barrels, or just about snough to maply the works for four or five days, the accontinued on Third Page.

SAM SEELY INDICTED. SLUGGING Grand Jury Finds Ten Charges of

Forgery and Grand Larceny.

Another Box Owned by Baker Opened and Found Empty.

Offered by the Bank.

Ten indictments were handed in to-day by the Grand Jury against Samuel C. Seel by the Grand Juhy against Samuel C. Seely, the defaulting bookkeeper of the Shoe and Leather Bank, alleging forgery and grand larceny.

They were filed with Judge Fitzgerald in Part I. of General Syssions at 1 o'clock. All were found on the evidence of Cashier Van Vleck. Bench warrants were issued and given to Central Office The Board of Directors of the National Shoe and Leather Bank this morning decided to offer a reward of $5,000 for the apprehension and conviction of Samue C. Beely.

Although this action on the part of the bank officials comes late, it seems to indicate that there have been no overtures towards a settlement made by

The directors met at 10 o'clock this morning in the Board room, on the secand noor directly over the banking house. There was an almost comple morning in the Board room, on the second floor directly over the banking-house. There was an almost complete attendance, and while it was the Board's regular weekly meeting, the proceedings were doubtless of more than usual interest to the directors.

The meeting lasted until il.36, but it was noon before anything could be learned of the result.

Vice-President Pease said that, outside of the bank's decision to offer a reward, there was absolutely nothing new, and that Seely's whereabouts were unknown. He reiterated the statement that Seely had no confederate in the bank, and denied that Seely's peculations amounted to less than the originally announced figure of $354,000. He added that there was also no truth in th, report that his accounts were in a much worse state than at first supposed and that the occasion for extra work on the part of the clerks for the last few nights was simply to balance the passbooks. So far, he said, they appear. It is be all right.

Detective-Sergis. Titus and Sheridan, of inspecter McLaughlin's staff, paid another visit to the bank this morning, while the direct is were in session, and made a careful examination of several books. When the directors had finished the detectives had a consultation with President Cranse. Counselor Bishop and Vice-Fresident Pease, and at 11.6 left the bank. Detective Titus told an "Evening World" writer that there was absolutely not a new in the case. Cashier Van Vic. "as at the bank only a few moments this morning. It was said that he was away on private business for the bank. not in connection with the Seely matter. The Vice-President denied with considerable force that any changes had been made in the ciercal staff of the bank.

The much-talked-of third box, which Seely's accomplice, Lawyer Baker, kept on deposit in the vaulis of the Park National Bank, and the contents of which it was hoped would shed considerable light on the robbery, was opened to-day in the presence of bank officials and the dead man's widow, daughter and son, Frederick R. Baker xes some days ago, to see if, by any sibility, anything might have been procked, but the examination overlooked, but the examination proved of no value.

"The whole affair now is shrouded in greater mystery than ever," said Lawyer Ogden, counsel for the Bakers. "I expected that some papers would be found in the third box, but we did not get as much as a scrap. The failure to find any papers does not suggest anything. It simply leaves us more in the dark."

very much improved within the past week.

A despatch received from Hamilton, Ont., this morning, says Seely has not been seen in that city.

Lawyer Charles J. Peshall, the Jersey City criminal lawyer, said to-day that Seely was not far away, but was in close hiding, either in the State of New Jersey or Connecticut or in Westchester County, New York, He said the report that Seely was in Canada was not true.

Frederick Baker's will, which, it is said, will be filed for probate to-day, is dated Dec. 30, 1871. Everything is left to his widow, Amelia F. Baker, Lawyer Ogden is authority for the statement that he left almost nothing, but that the real estate holdings of the widow amount to about $50,000.

Counsel Ogden, for the Baker family, said that Lawyer Angel is the direct cause of all the disgrace that has befallen his clients. He challenges Angel to produce one scrap of evidence that will tend to prive that Baker was a confederate of Seely.

"We have concealed nothing from the baker he said "Let Angel come for."

There Will Be No Brutality to Cause Interference.

Capt. Trenchard, of Princeton, Believes in Crowing After the Game Is Over.

Thanksgiving Day event in this city s decreed by fate and Yale's obstinact to be played on Manhattan Field tomorrow. The manner in which every piece of pasteboard bearing the words that are an "open sesame" have been snapped up indicates that the attendance will probably fill the big inclosure and the bluff that overlooks it.

Inspector Conion will be in command of a detail of 250 men stationed about the field.

The Inspector was fully instructed this morning by the Superintendent that should the game develop anything other than a purely scientific contest, it should be treated exactly as would a prise-fight.

He would not allow, said the Superintendent, a lot of college youths or any other players to act like a lot of pugilists and possibly main each other for life under the excuse of foothall rules.

His orders were explicit and commanded the Inspector to stop the game at the first sign of brutality manifested.

About 280 of the officers will be stationed at regular posts about the gridino, while the remainder will be assigned to duty at the gates, in the grand stand and among the crowds who may not feel financially strong enough to purchase a seat in the grand stand. Reports from various points of police interference because of the unseemly conduct of football players led the Superintendent to remark that people who hesitated to attend the game because of a fear their tender sensibilities might be shocked by an exhibition of slugging need have no fear upon the Public.

"My duty is to see that the law is observed and order maintained. That I will do at all hazards. The nolice will not be deceived by an unseemly exhibition of brutality under the guise of an innocent settle game. The boys will be cautioned to be careful, and I feel satisfied that they will take heed. It may be that in the excitement of the game some overt act might be committed without any intention of inflicting injury. Such instances, of course, would not warrant the police in interfering.

"But when a player deliberately attempts to injure or crippie an opponent, he violates the law, and the police would be guilty of neglect of duty if they didn't interfere.

The Superintendent added that he really did not anticipate that anything would occur to justify police interference.
